Governor Dole Decides to Continue
System of Executive Councils.
Auditor Busy.

There were changes all along the line in the offices of the Government yesterday, owing to Hawaii's becoming a Territory. In nearly all of the offices there was little business transacted, the new officers and their deputies devoting their time largely to familiarizing themselves with the new laws and conditions. It will be some days before the business of the Territory begins to run smoothly once more for in most of the departments entirely new systems of doing business will be introduced, and the duties of other departments will be entirely different from that under the Republic.

Governor Dole has decided to continue the system of Executive Councils. These conferences of the officials of the Territory will not have powers to pass authoritatively on any questions, but they will be of assistance to all the officers, keeping the head of each department in touch with the others. Governor Dole was anxious to have the Cabinet idea embodied in the bill creating Hawaii a Territory, but it was cut out in Congress. There is nothing in the bill prohibiting these conferences, and they will be continued. Governor Dole states that he considers them a great source of strength to the Government.

Henry E. Cooper, Secretary of the Territory, occupied yesterday the suite of rooms he occupied when he was Minister of Foreign Affairs under the Republic before he became Attorney General. Besides his duties as Secretary of the Territory, he will for a time have to act as Territorial Treasurer, to which office he was appointed temporarily yesterday by Governor Dole, who has not received a satisfactory answer from the man whom he wishes to fill that office. Mr. Cooper is also to have the duties of the Territorial elections under his care. This work was in charge of the Interior Department under the Republic. Wray Taylor will continue in the capacity of Registrar. Mr. Cooper's first official act was to sign the notice for publication of the appointment of the Governor.

The old Interior Department becomes the Board of Public Works under the new order of things. Superintendent McCandless is still out of town, so the work of his department is at a standstill for some days. The clerks in the department have been paid off and were busy yesterday closing up a lot of old business. Portions of the work which was formerly handled by the office will devolve upon the Treasury and Attorney General's departments. Mr. Rowell, who has acted as Superintendent of Public Works, will probably be retained in the office under the new regime as a deputy. Ex-Secretary Young states that there is enough work in the office to require the services of Mr. Rowell and several others as well. The work has been so much better systematized of late that much more can be accomplished than formerly in this office, and it is expected that when Mr. McCandless returns the department will be but a short time in getting into good shape.

The Auditor's office was about the only one to present its usual busy state yesterday. As Auditor H. C. Austin was Auditor General under the Republic, and simply drops the "General" under the Territory, there will be very few changes necessary in his department. As the custom house and postoffice will hereafter be out of the Auditor's hands, there will be fewer warrants to draw, and a reduction of the force may result. The Judiciary Department will go on temporarily as before. Judges Stanley and Wood were both on duty yesterday as usual, and transacted business as before. Chief Clerk Henry Smith swore in the deputies and there was no cessation of business.

Before administering the oath to Governor Dole on Wednesday, Justice Fear was himself sworn in as a Justice of the United States, his commission as Chief Justice not having arrived. Henry Smith administering the oath. Then Justice Fear swore in Mr. Smith.

The Educational Department will be in running order early next week. Superintendent Atkinson said yesterday. New blanks were received in the office yesterday and the work of the office was going on as usual.

The Police Department will witness few changes. Much of the work which has heretofore come under its direction will devolve upon United States Marshal Ray, whenever he shall arrive. Mr. Ray will have charge of all postoffice and internal revenue business, smuggling and illicit distilling, and will probably appoint several deputies in the other islands on his arrival. Until his arrival and the establishment of the Marshal's office on a working basis, High Sheriff Brown will look after smugglers, and the cases of such men will come before the Federal courts.

Attorney General Dole and Deputy Cathcart were in their offices yesterday as usual, and their department will soon be in working order.

No Commissioner of Agriculture has yet been appointed, and Mr. Hughes is carrying on the work of the office for the present.

The land office has much business still on hand, and it will be some time before it will be cleared up. There will be very few changes in the office, as far as could be ascertained.

Although Dr. Wood, president of the Board of Health, has resigned, the Board continues to carry on its work as usual, and it is probable that there will be few other changes. Almost all of the present Board will continue in office.

MONEY FOR HAWAII.

Making Paper from Sugar Cane Refuse Talked Of.

The recent article in this paper about the possibility of making paper from sugar cane trash is creating some local interest where it is thought that the idea may work out in the form of a new industry. Vast quantities of paper are used in these islands, and all of it is imported at a high price. The query is, why not keep that money at home and make Hawaii independent of the mainland paper manufacturers?

Of course sugar cane trash would not produce the best grade of paper; something else would be needed for book and note stock. "This," said George Paris yesterday, "is to be had in banana stalks, roots and leaves. When a banana tree bears its fruit and other trees come up beside it. The old growth is full of the finest paper fibre, and could be shaved into a mill at one end and come out at the other as superfine note. As there is an unlimited quantity of trash and banana trees, paper making looks like a sound proposition."

The week in society has been a quiet one to a certain extent barring the inaugural ball on Thursday evening. In the earlier part of the week the races drew people's attention and there were few large affairs to enliven society. The outlook for gaiety during the next week is not at all encouraging to those who so enjoy social entertainment. The summer vacations are about to commence, and from the large number of persons booked for the Coast, there is certain to be a dearth in social affairs in consequence. No events of any great importance are promised in the near future.

It is likely that society will join hands with the Neill Company at some time during its engagement in Honolulu to raise funds for the Hospital for incurables. At a dinner party given at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Hoffmann on Wednesday, the subject was broached to Mr. Astor Parker, manager for the company, who was one of the guests. Mrs. Hoffmann has high hopes that society can be enlisted in the movement to co-operate with the players of Mr. Neill's company and give a good round sum for the Hospital which has received so much support at the hands of Hon. Alexander Young. It is proposed that at the termination of the company's engagement to ask Mr. Neill to give a matinee or evening performance as a charitable benefit. On the Mainland the method of procedure would be to sell the first tickets to the highest bidder at auction. Society ladies and bachelors have also interested themselves in the preparation and sale of souvenir programs printed on satin which makes them especially attractive. Under the auspices of many of the leaders of society the benefit fund could be made a large one and worthy of the efforts of society and the company. With several society young ladies to sell bougainvilliers in the Opera House there is little doubt but that the benefit would be a success socially and financially. In San Francisco when the older boys of California returned from the war, society co-operating with many of the theatrical companies raised thousands of dollars for their entertainment. The movement to increase the hospital fund is a far more worthy one, and once started will be certain of a generous support. It is only the few who can afford the satisfaction of donating thousands of dollars, but it can be the many who will be able to contribute to the dollar fund, thereby giving all an opportunity of doing at least something for the humane movement. The matter has been mooted about this week among several society ladies and all express themselves favorably impressed with the proposition.

Mr. Fred Smith and Mr. Robert Shingle were the hosts of a large party given at Waiialua on Tuesday evening, consisting of a dinner and a dance in the parlors of the Waiialua Hotel. The guests were entertained royally and made a late stay at the beautiful resort, reaching Honolulu by special train at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning. The guests were carried to their destination in two special cars attached to the 4 p. m. train. The hosts were assisted by Mrs. R. M. Damon, Mrs. M. C. Widfield, Miss J. S. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weight, Arthur Wall, Robert Shingle and Fred Smith.

Miss Edith Howe, Professor of Education at Mills College, California, will give a series of two miscellaneous literary recitals at the Young Men's Christian Association, the first to be given June 21 and the second June 25. Miss Howe is visiting Miss Panabaker while on the islands, and has letters of introduction from Mrs. Mills, President of Mills College, to many of the best people in town, including graduates from the college. She expects to visit the Coast and in the East, and while her work in the college has not permitted her to travel extensively, yet she has met with the most encouraging success wherever she has gone.

Mrs. F. K. C. Gibbons was the guest of honor at a supper given by Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit P. Wilder at their Punahou home on Wednesday evening. The dancing lasted until midnight, when supper was served and the guests toasted the new-born Territory of Hawaii. The guests were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gilman, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Boyd, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Tenney, Mrs. Gunn, Mrs. Noonan, Miss Atkinson, Miss Widfield, Miss Macfarlane, Miss Gertrude Scott, Miss Juliette King, Miss Cornwell, A. L. C. Atkinson, Southard Hoffman, Richard Ivers, H. A. Allen, P. Lansdale, Tarn McGrew, E. C. Macfarlane, Wm. Ricker, C. L. Wright and Dr. Stowe.

The little fairy dancers of Mrs. Gunn's dancing class will appear before the Litigation Renewed.

An amended declaration has been filed by Thomas Milner Harrison in his assumption case against J. A. Magoon, F. B. McStocker, L. C. Ables and Dorotha Emerson for $10,000. His claim arises out of an alleged agreement made at Auckland, N. Z., on September 20, 1897, between himself and the defendants and five others, who were doing business as the African, Pacific and Indian Hazy Company. The company's place of business, according to the document was in Tasmania.
